PRESS RELEASE

BILINGUAL BUDS OFFERS A 2009 SUMMER CAMP IN BEIJING WITH EXCURSION TO SHANGHAI FOR CHILDREN AGES 3-10 YEARS

Bilingual Buds is offering a very unique opportunity for young children, ages 3-10, to be immersed in Chinese language and culture for 3 weeks in Beijing and Shanghai (July 11-August 2, 2009). Every weekday morning our children will be learning alongside native Chinese students in a local private preschool/kindergarten listening to stories, doing arts and crafts, and other hands on activities, or enrolled in a separate class for older students 7-10. After a short rest, parents and children will reunite for excursions to age appropriate local attractions such as the zoo and the aquarium, museums and other cultural attractions. The camp includes tuition, room and board, medical insurance for the children, airport pick-up and daily transportation to and from the school and tickets for all afternoon activities. According to Sharon Huang, Bilingual Buds founder and director, "Traveling to and immersing yourself in the culture of a country is the very best way to reinforce language learning at any age. Through this trip, our students will get to experience the language and culture in a deep and meaningful way." Further information on the program and its costs can be obtained by contacting Bilingual Buds.
